Cairn IV: Sentry of the Canyon

The Singing Pillars

I. The Mouth of the Chasm

At the southern mouth of the Whispering Chasm, in the shadow of the Sentinel Mesa, stand two hollow pillars: Cairn IV, the Sentry of the Canyon. When the wind blows through their openings the pillars sing, and the cliffs throw every note back. Hermes wrote down seven echoes. Only Silvia can find where each one was born.

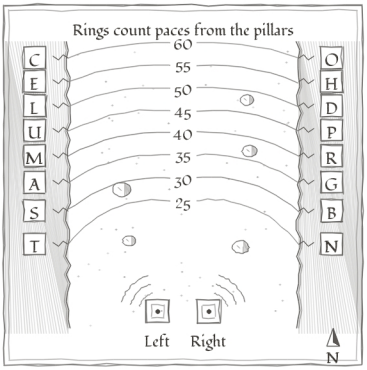

The Whispering Chasm seen from the south: the twin pillars of Cairn IV, the Sentinel Mesa beyond.

II. The Rules of the Echo

1. Each pillar sings toward its own wall, left or right.
2. In one beat sound travels 10 paces, 5 going out and 5 coming back. So an echo that returns after 2 beats comes from a crack 10 paces away.
3. Find that ring on the plan: the crack there carries a letter. The seven letters, in order, spell the Sigil of the Sentry.

III. The Seven Echoes

Echo	Pillar	Back after	Letter
1	Right	8 beats
2	Left	11 beats
3	Left	6 beats
4	Right	12 beats
5	Left	9 beats
6	Right	5 beats
7	Right	10 beats

Hermes's seven echoes

The Sigil of the Sentry:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7

Speak the Sigil at Cairn IV to win its seal.

The canyon answers those who listen.
